

Creative internship in Graphic Design

Are you interested in an internship with lots of opportunity for professional development and influence? Do you want to become part of a young, dynamic startup environment, where ideas quickly turn into action? Then look no further!

What do we offer

We offer an exciting internship position in a young, ambitious startup with a flat structure, strong sense of unity and informal atmosphere. PlayStation and Friday beers. We are a performance-driven company who value results but also to have fun together as a team. Professionally, you will work closely with the CEO and CMO and your contributions will have a real impact on our brand. Therefore, it is also important for us that you are willing to develop yourself professionally, personally and grow alongside Intempus.

Our ideal candidate will

- Be responsible with a big drive for excellence and attention to detail
- Like to work with graphic design and make them look professional
- Have some experience working with different graphics tools such as Sketch, Illustrator, and Photoshop
- Is currently studying Multimedia Design or similar

What you will work on

- Creating press materials including catalogs, ads, flyers, etc.
- Create videos (product, case, employer branding, etc.)
- Create social media and website graphics
- Assist the marketing team in daily tasks

We will make sure that you will get a thorough introduction into our company. At Intempus we really appreciate the value our interns bring and have only had great success with previous internships. A lot of our interns have been hired for a full-time position after the internship and is now a part our team - maybe that could, be you?
